

EXPECTANT
MOMS

RESEARCH OPPORTUNITY

This study is looking at risk factors for food allergies and eczema in young children.

To Participate in this study you must:

- Be a Pregnant Mother at any point during your pregnancy and willing to enroll your child at birth
- Participation for you and your child lasts until your child is three years old
- Biological Fathers may also participate, but their participation is not required

Participation will involve:

- Clinic visits several times over three years to monitor the development of allergies
- Sample collection (blood, urine, hair, stool, skin tapes and swabs, saliva, cord blood and nasal swabs; mother only: vaginal swabs and breast milk)
- Questionnaires related to your child's health, diet, and environment

Contact the Study Team at:

or